

CALL FOR SUBMISSION OF EMPLOYABILITY INNOVATIVE PROJECTS FOR PRE-SELECTION OF UR-CMHS INNOVATION WEEK

Objectives of the pre-selection for UR Employability Innovation Week for CMHS:

1. To select the best prototype projects for showcasing during the University Career summit Days and recommend them for incubation at the University Makerspace-University innovation pod. (UNIPOD)
2. To identify innovative, employability-oriented health care projects that can be incubated through training and supported at the University Maker space (UNIPOD).
3. To align incubated projects with funding opportunities by preparing them for pitching to university partners

Who to apply

Only the ongoing CMHS students From Huye, Remera & Rwanmagana Campus (undergraduate and postgraduates)

Outcome

1. Showcasing of innovative projects during the University Innovation Week
2. Recommend for Free office and shared meeting rooms for startups at university makerspace(UNIPOD)
3. Enhanced Entrepreneurial Capacity of health -care students through entrepreneurship training and support, enabling them to start sustainable business.
4. Recommend incubated projects for funding with university partners
5. A database of all submitted Innovative projects is created and maintained for future support and tracking.
6. A follow-up progress review is conducted with incubated teams within 6-12 months

How to apply

Click here for more detailed information and complete application

<https://forms.gle/Wqyamdg0HrKf6cUm7>

Deadline: 7th January 2026

For more information contact: claudemwendezi@gmail.com or b.mwendezi@ur.ac.rw and neas0077@gmail.com

Tel. +250783145536

Done at Kigali, 11/1/2025

Prof. Abraham HA. Mitike, MD

Principal College of Medicine and Health Sciences
University of Rwanda