1. Master of Education in Biology Education;
2. Master of Education in Chemistry Education
3. Master of Education in Mathematics Education
4. Master of Education in Physics Education

1. About ACEITLMS

The ACEITLMS is one of the four African Centres of Excellence (ACEs) of the ACE II Project hosted at UR under a partnership between the Government of Rwanda and the World Bank to strengthen higher education by delivering quality postgraduate education and building collaborative research capacity in the Eastern and Southern Africa region. The core aim of ACEITLMS is to strengthen human capacity in the delivery of quality teaching and learning of mathematics and science in Rwanda and across the region, in partnership with regional and international higher learning institutions through the three main activities namely (i) teaching and learning, (ii) research and training, and (iii) community engagement. For teaching and learning, the Centre is running PhD and MEd programmes in Biology Education, Chemistry Education, Mathematics Education and in Physics Education whose graduates are expected to bring innovation in teaching and learning of Science and Mathematics. In this regard, ACEITLMS calls for Applications to the above-mentioned programmes which are expected to start with the academic year 2019-2020.

2. Admission requirements

To be admitted to the MEd programmes, candidates should have an undergraduate degree with Honours in either Biology, Chemistry, or Physics Education with upper second class or equivalent;
